About Me

I am Saravana P, a passionate Full Stack Developer and AI Engineer from Kongu Engineering College, specialized in creating intelligent, end-to-end web solutions. With a unique blend of frontend design, backend logic, and machine learning expertise, I build cutting-edge applications that range from AI Chatbots and Deception Detection Systems to Resume Scorers and Real-time Auction Platforms.

PROJECTS

SaviAI – AI Interview Assistant

Real-time facial emotion detection combined with resume vs job description match scoring. Revolutionary AI-powered interview analysis system.

Online Auction Platform

Real-time full-stack auction system with user authentication, payment integration, and live bid tracking supporting 150+ concurrent users.

Deception Detection System

CNN-based micro-expression analysis system that detects deception patterns in interview videos with 87% accuracy using computer vision.
